Hour of Insight Anniversary Special

January 23 @ 6PM EST

On January 23rd we will celebrate our sixth year of The DrCal Hour of Insight. Henning Stumm, will be our honored guest. Henning was the first artist to share his music and be interviewed on my show back in 2011.

We will also share some new music and talk about the things that are ahead of us this year. So tune in with your host DrCal

MFB CD release

I am pleased to announce that we will be releasing the first CD from the Musicians for Biodiversity Project this month. This is a project that supports the United Nations Decade on Biodiversity. The people that I have come in contact with through my Hour of Insight show is what inspired me to develop this project.

Details of where the CD may be purchased and downloaded will be available soon. Please help support this fundraising effort.

Musicians for Biodiversity is a Non-Profit Organization and an Official Partner of the United Nations Decade on Biodiversity.

Thank You

ASCAP and the Radio Music License Committee Announce New Agreement

NEW YORK, Dec. 15, 2016: The Radio Music License Committee (RMLC) and the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP) today announced a new five-year agreement through 2021 that sets the rates payable by over 10,000 of America's commercial terrestrial radio stations to publicly perform more than 10.5 million musical works in the ASCAP repertory. The RMLC represents the vast majority of the nation's radio stations and ASCAP represents 600,000 songwriters, composers and music publisher members whose songs and compositions comprise the largest catalog of music played on commercial AM/FM radio of any performing rights organization in the United States.

The agreement covers the five-year period 2017 to 2021. It provides for increases in the rates paid by radio stations to perform music by ASCAP members via terrestrial, over-the-air broadcasts as well as certain digital transmissions and, for the first time, expressly affirms the percentage share of radio performances represented by ASCAP -- at a level that reflects that ASCAP licenses more performances on broadcast radio than any other performing rights organization.

Happy New Year 2017

Dear Friends and Fans

I think most people will agree that 2016 was quite an eventful year in which we had way too much tragedy and loss. But now 2017 is upon us and we must look forward with hope and anticipation of better things happening.

The hour of insight will be marking year number six this month, and I would like to thank all the guests that have allowed me the pleasure of sharing their music and their story on my show. There have been many artists who had their first interview right here. Some have gone on to signing deals and are on tour sharing their music

As we celebrate our sixth anniversary there are some new things coming in 2017 that we have been working on for a few years. However, it is my hope to see more love and harmony in this new year. Music is such an important part of our lives and musicians are like ambassadors to the world. It is somewhat mysterious how music transcends all cultural boundaries and has a way of making us focus on things we have in common rather than our petty differences, even as we share so many different styles of music

I want to take this time to say Happy New Year, to all my fans and listeners, those who have been with us from the beginning and to those who are just coming on board.

Remember to pray for our Nation as well as other Nations and let Love Rule.
